

O.P. GARZA

ABOUT

O.P. Garza has been a professional filmmaker and editor for decades, as well as a show producer. His outside the box thinking and uniquely creative mind have led to some incredible experiences and works of art.

He is a writer/director originally hailing from San Antonio, TX, and has been creating since he could hold a camera. When he stumbled into adulthood, he was fortunate enough to shoot and direct video for the armed services for ten years working with all branches of the military. He has shot and directed video content for NATO as well as a number of local businesses. However, his true passion is in immersive experiences.

Since 2015 his sole focus has been working in the escape room industry where he built a successful video production outfit with global reach. He is now channeling all his talent into Mystery Club.
